WHERE WE START

We believe in the power of nature to improve people's lives. Houseplants allow us to bring nature and its benefits inside.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Historically, houseplants have been sold without the accurate identification or proper care instructions necessary for consumers to provide adequate plant care. We believe it's unfair for plant lovers to venture into caring for plants without knowing what a plant needs. Our tagging effort helps build better relationships people and plants.

The Plant Company sets people up for success. To achieve that goal, we partner exclusively with the leading plant breeders in the global market. We work side-by-side with them to scout and develop houseplants with the most robust genetics and resilient behavior.

OUR CUSTOMERS

After experiencing the thrill and success of growing one healthy houseplant, many people get hooked. As their confidence blooms, they buy more and more plants, filling their indoor world with natural beauty.

Easy, Sustainable and Fun

EASY

By providing the natural texture found in the jungle, Climb-itt™ supports attract aerial roots, encouraging them to attach and grow to their full potential.

SUSTAINABLE

Plastic PVC poles and coco fibers sprayed with harmful chemicals are now a thing of the past. Your customers expect more, and so should you. Made of elephant grass and potato skins, Climb-itt™ by leafjoy™ is the first all-natural, fully biodegradable plant support system.

FUN

Watch your climbing and vining houseplants thrive with support poles, clips, and wiring that actually encourage them grow, just as they would in nature.

POLES

ECOWIRE

The EcoClips, made from the same all-natural materials as the support poles, bend with the growth of the stem, allowing the plant to develop naturally without the risk of pinched sap flow.

You can even water your plants through the center of the pole to prevent spillage and evaporation, putting water at the roots of your plants where it's needed.

Consumers have come to expect the same level of houseplant availability, regardless of the season. In fact, many of our retailers say Winter and Spring are their busiest seasons for indoor houseplant sales. And leafjoy is no exception to that.

SHIPPING THROUGH THE SEASONS

Our Cold Weather Protocol ensures each leafjoy® order is meticulously packaged and shipped with extra care when adverse weather conditions are forecasted along shipping routes. This protocol ensures your plants are protected from cold damage in transit and arrive at your retail store happy, healthy and ready to sell..

Route Optimization: Our Logistics Team uses advanced weather forecasting tools to optimize shipping routes.

Boxing Procedures: Our Operations Team incorporates heat packs in every box or parcel of leafjoy plants to ensure temperatures remain consistent in transit. Our team then adds a specialized winter disposable shroud to each pallet ensuring an extra layer of insulation.

FAST AND RELIABLE SHIPPING

Our greenhouses are conveniently located near major shipping lanes in Virginia, allowing leafjoy to get to your retail stores quickly and consistently.

SHIPPING OPTIONS

FedEx LTL Freight: Through our partnership with FedEx Freight, our wholesale customers can receive one or more pallets at a time. Each leafjoy order is carefully packaged in variety-specific boxes and shipped on a shrink-wrapped pallet.
