

SUPPORT POLLINATOR POPULATIONS

PW PROVEN
WINNERS®

COLOR CHOICE
FLOWERING SHRUBS

There is an increased awareness of the importance of pollinator populations, and many homeowners want gardens that will support them. Shrubs can be important habitat for butterflies, bees, and birds.

Lil' Miss Sunshine™

CARYOPTERIS

Its distinctive blue flowers are a favorite of pollinators. page ?

Marie Rose™

CEANOTHUS

Butterflies love the fluffy summer flowers of this drought-tolerant shrub. page ?

Sugartina® 'Crystalina'

CLETHRA

Our native summersweet has fragrant summer flowers that attract pollinators. page ?

Sugar Shack™

CEPHALANTHUS

The fragrant summer flowers of this native are a favorite of many pollinators. page ?

Download two-page pdf

SUPPORT POLLINATOR POPULATIONS

HIBISCUS

The summer flowers are an important food source for butterflies and bees.

page ?

Blue Chiffon™

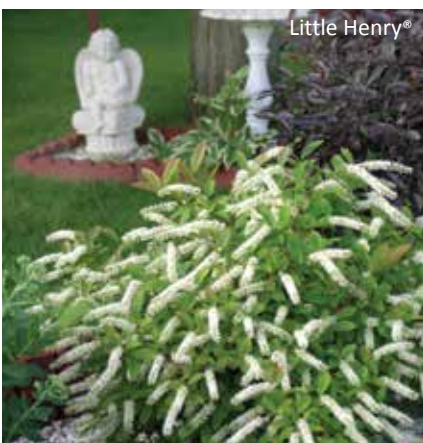

Incrediball®

HYDRANGEA ARBORESCENS

Bees love our native hydrangea. page ?

WEIGELA

Hummingbirds love the tubular flowers of these colorful shrubs. page ?

Little Henry®

Wine & Roses®

TEA

This adaptable native's summer blooms are fragrant and full of nectar. page ?