THE GARDENER'S IDEA BOOK

BACKYARD RETREAT JUST FOR HER

Wouldn't you love a space of your own, nestled in among the trees, to escape? Your backyard hideaway can be anything you want it to be – a quiet space to curl up with a summer novel, explore a creative pursuit or visit with a few good friends. Your she shed should be all about YOU.

Decorating your retreat inside and out with gorgeous flowers and plants gives it an inspired, homey feel. When you use a simple neutral paint palette and natural wood décor as a backdrop, any botanicals will go.

Notice how pink, purple and red shades were repeated among a diverse group of plants in the garden beds and indoor planters in this scene, creating a cohesive look in a small, eclectic space.

In landscape bed at right side of shed: HEART TO HEART™ FAST FLASH™ Caladium, HEART TO HEART™ 'Radiance' Caladium, HEART TO HEART™ 'White Wonder' Caladium, COLORBLAZE® Royale APPLE BRANDY® Coleus, SUNPATIENS® Compact Blush Pink Impatiens, LET'S DANCE® BIG EASY® Hydrangea, HIPPO® Red Hypoestes, Sweet Caroline RED HAWK™ Ipomoea and CATALINA® Midnight Blue Torenia

In containers on patio: SUPERBELLS® HONEYBERRY™ Calibrachoa, COLORBLAZE® WICKED WITCH™ Coleus, HIPPO® Red Hypoestes, SUNPATIENS® Compact Blush Pink Impatiens, LAGUNA® Sky Blue Lobelia, Sweet Caroline RAVEN™ Ipomoea, GRACEFUL GRASSES® Purple Fountain Grass Pennisetum, SUNSTAR™ Pink Pentas and UNPLUGGED® SO BLUE™ Salvia
 Inside shed in containers: HEART TO HEART™ 'Chinook' Caladium, HEART TO HEART™ 'Dawn to Dusk' Caladium, HEART TO HEART™ 'Lemon Blush' Caladium and PATRICIA® Hedera (Ivy)

SHARING YOUR SHE SHED

When you create your own backyard retreat, you get to decide who's invited. If you are planning to use the space to entertain, spruce up the entrance with lush plantings, then add a few more seating options and a small table or two for setting snacks, wine and candles. The idea isn't to spend a lot of money here. Take a look around your home first to gather a few well-loved items that could be moved to your she shed. Then, hit a few local garage sales, flea markets or antique shops to pick up a few more treasures. The idea is to curate a lived-in look and relaxing atmosphere. Fresh from the garden fare will bring the experience to the next level.

THE SUPERTUNIA® COLLECTION

There's a reason why Supertunia petunias have remained at the top of our best-sellers list for decades. With nearly 40 unique varieties in the collection, there's one to suit every color scheme and garden space.

All Supertunias are vigorous, easy to grow petunias, and they can be used in different ways depending on what you're looking to accomplish in your garden. We'll suggest their best use here, but keep in mind that all Supertunias can be grown both in containers and in the landscape. Let's take a closer look at each type.

SUPERTUNIA VISTA®

PRIMARY USE landscape design
 height: 12-24" spread: 24-36"

To fill large expanses in the landscape quickly, you can't beat Supertunia Vista petunias. A single plant will easily fill three square feet, making them an affordable choice as a flowering groundcover. If you plant them in a container, make sure to use an extra-large one. Pair this type of petunia with other very vigorous plants in combinations.

SUPERTUNIA® TRAILING

PRIMARY USE container gardening
 height: 4-8" spread: 24-36"

You can't beat Supertunia Trailing as an all-season flowering spiller for hanging baskets and tall, upright containers. Their natural tendency is to grow straight down, cascading at least three feet long by summer. If your goal is to have the longest trailing flowers possible in your window boxes, choose Supertunia Trailing petunias.

SUPERTUNIA® MINI VISTA™

PRIMARY USE landscape design
 height: 6-12" spread: 18-24"

For the edge of the border or as an accent plant in smaller spaces, choose Supertunia Mini Vista. Though their strong vigor is similar to Supertunia Vista petunias, their mature size is significantly smaller. Their dense growth habit makes them harder to mix with other plants in container recipes, but they are magnificent planted on their own in containers.

MORE SUPERTUNIA®

PRIMARY USE container gardening

height: 6-12" spread: 18-24"

You'll find the greatest range of colors and patterns in our standard Supertunia line. They are incredibly versatile, mixing easily with their companions in all sorts of container recipes and growing well in mixed borders. Though the plants are similar in size to Supertunia Mini Vista, their flowers are larger and their habit is relaxed enough to let other plants weave through them to create classic mixed container designs.

INTRODUCES AQUAPOTS™

The Finest in Self-Watering Containers

If you love container gardening but don't have the time or energy to haul out the hose every day, AquaPots offer a stylish yet practical solution. As the world's first and only luxury quality ceramic, self-watering containers, handcrafted using time-tested techniques, they will surely exceed your expectations. Look for them this spring at your local retailers who carry Michael Carr Designs pottery.

"Wow! We are thrilled with our AquaPots. The gorgeous pottery we handpicked in various shapes and sizes with the watering system built in could not be easier to maintain when we are home or traveling. These one-of-a-kind pots are our best home investment to date. A GREAT addition to our outdoor living space!"
Gwen & Richard Z. – Naples, FL

Why Choose AquaPots ?

Achieve the polished look of luxurious ceramic containers with the advantage of a built-in watering system.

AquaPots take the guesswork out of knowing when it is time to water since the plants take up the water from the reservoir as needed. An overflow valve ensures you cannot overwater.

Most AquaPots only need to be refilled once per week. Extra-large pots can go even longer between fillings, saving time and resources.

When you add Proven Winners Continuous Release Plant Food to the water reservoir, your plants will respond with incredible vigor and flower power.

Self-watering AquaPots won't stain your deck or patio by leaving a ring since the entire system is cleanly contained.

At the end of the season, frost and freeze resistant ceramic AquaPots are easy to disassemble, clean and store. They can remain outdoors for winter once they have been emptied and turned upside down – a major convenience especially for northern gardeners.

PROVEN HARVEST™

Big Yields in Small Spaces

Garden to table cuisine is easy, even when you garden on a balcony, when you grow smaller-sized veggies and herbs in containers. One Fire Away™ Hot and Heavy pepper plant yields enough for dozens of bacon-wrapped poppers. A single Goodhearted™ tomato plant provides enough cocktail-sized fruits to garnish a whole summer's worth of Bloody Mary's. Grow them in cute containers to complete your outdoor decor. When your lease is up, they'll be easy to pick up and move with you.

Make It a Family Affair

Moms know. When a child grows their own tomatoes, they're far more likely to actually eat them. No more bargaining or hiding healthy fruits and vegetables in their food. Plus, sharing the experience of planting, nurturing and harvesting as a family grows more than food – it grows memories that last a lifetime.

A small raised bed or grouping of containers is all you and your children or grandchildren need to cultivate nourishing, clean food. No age is too young. The time to start is now!

Raised bed garden:
LADY GODIVA® Yellow Calendula, FIRE AWAY™ Hot and Heavy Pepper, TEMPTING TOMATOES™ 'Garden Gem' Tomato, TEMPTING TOMATOES™ GOODHEARTED™ Tomato, AMAZEL BASIL™ Ocimum, Tangerine Slice A-PEEL® Thunbergia, marigold and onion.

DRENCH YOUR SUNNY DECK IN COLOR

Designers are masters at using color to bring outdoor entertaining spaces alive, create a calming nook, or make a patio feel cozier. Here are a few color tips from the pros.

Warm pinks, reds and yellows like you see at left set a welcoming, exciting, energetic tone. They make a space feel more intimate and are known to stimulate the appetite. Use them to create a “door’s always open” feel at your front entrance and to liven up your outdoor dining area.

Soft blues, purples, chartreuse and white like you see at right are calming colors that can make a space feel relaxing, open and airy. They can make a hot deck feel a few degrees cooler, especially in the evening when the cool colors are amplified by the lower light.

White is a neutral color that complements everything around it. Do you see how using white furniture and woodwork on these sunny decks makes the vibrant flowers become the focal point?

CHEERFUL RECIPES FOR SHADED PATIOS

If your shaded porch or patio is in desperate need of color, look no further than these four bold shade container recipes. Spicy oranges and reds, lipstick pinks and glowing chartreuse quickly bring an inviting energy to outdoor living spaces. Coordinate with colorful outdoor rugs and pillows to make it a comfortable spot you look forward to entertaining or relaxing in.

By combining fabulous foliage plants with long blooming flowers, these container recipes go the distance from planting time until frost.

Plus, you'll cut down on how often you need to water by keeping them out of the intense sunlight and wind.

OH YES, I DO!

When it's time to say I do, you don't need to stress over selecting fancy candelabra centerpieces and table linens. If vintage is more your vibe, spend a few afternoons picking up an eclectic assortment of tableware and rustic décor to create your dream space. Your wedding finery should reflect your combined styles.

Set the tone with a pearly white entrance to greet the bride and groom, and be sure there is plenty of bubbly on hand for the first toast once the I do's have been said. Fresh strawberries will draw out the fruitiness in the champagne. Add a few Berried Treasure® plants to your bridal decor so you can continue to enjoy them at your home all summer long.

A GREENER APPROACH TO BRIDAL DECOR

Though cut flowers are traditional wedding fare, using live plants for centerpieces and bridal decor is trending among earth-conscious couples. To leave less of a footprint once the celebration is over, look for ways to eliminate single use items in favor of reusable or repurposed ones. Your guests will love to go home with a lasting living memento from your special day.

If no nuptials are in your future, consider using the ideas you see here to celebrate another special occasion like a summer garden party or a reunion of lifelong friends.

 All that decor can really add up! Why not save some of that money for the honeymoon by making a few of the decorations yourself? We'll show you how to craft this magnificent moss wall and cute party favors on pwwin.rs/wedding.

 Save pins of all the ideas you see here so you'll be ready when it's time to plan the big day at pwwin.rs/weddings.

DIAMONDS ARE A GARDENER'S BEST FRIEND

ANNUAL OF THE YEAR

DIAMOND COLLECTION
Euphorbia

Women know – diamonds go with everything, just like this trio of Diamond euphorbia. Their wispy white blossoms invigorate combinations and complement everything you pair with them. Though they may appear delicate, these are rock-solid, heat and drought tolerant, versatile plants.

▶ Watch how Laura of Garden Answer designs with Diamond euphorbia in her containers and garden beds at pwwin.rs/diamonds.

How Do They Compare?

Though both Diamond Frost and Diamond Snow grow about the same size in containers, they play different roles. While airy textured Diamond Frost mixes easily with other plants, Diamond Snow is more clump forming and occupies its own spot in the pot. An extra set of petals on double-flowered Diamond Snow gives it a brighter white appearance from a distance.

HOT, DRY AND LOVIN' IT

Learning which types of flowers and plants are survivors in the hot, dry climates of the Southwest takes some time to master. Few plants thrive in parched soils with no supplemental water, but the high light levels endemic to such regions draw out the best in many kinds of flowering plants.

Sun loving plants that can handle dry conditions tend to be easier to grow in the ground where their roots can seek out available moisture. When working with containers, you'll have better luck using large pots that can hold a greater soil volume and won't dry out as quickly. Choose plants that thrive with less water unless your container is a self-watering AquaPot, which will broaden your planting options.

5 NEW SUPER HARDY PERENNIALS

'Serendipity' Allium

Rosy purple flower globes are remarkably attractive to summer pollinators, while the strappy blue foliage sets this unique allium apart.

🌞🌱 15-20" Zone 4-8 🐛

'Jack of Diamonds' Brunnera

Huge, durable, silvery leaves with green veining make a dense mound that stays gorgeous all the way through fall. Baby blue flowers are a springtime bonus.

🌞🌱 14-16" Zone 3-8 🐛

COLOR CODED™ 'Orange You Awesome' Echinacea

Large, juicy tangerine flowers bloom prolifically for most of the summer on full, knee high plants. Butterflies and songbirds are frequent visitors.

🌞🌱 18-22" Zone 4-8 🐛

SUMMERIFIC® 'Evening Rose' Hibiscus

One of the most impressive new plants this year! Dinner plate-sized, hot pink flowers cover this robust perennial with near-black foliage from summer into fall.

🌞🌱 48" Zone 4-9 🐛

ROCK 'N GROW® 'Boogie Woogie' Sedum

Pollinators relish the sunny yellow blooms in early summer, but it's the variegated green and yellow, serrated foliage that keeps this plant rockin' all season.

🌞🌱 6-8" Zone 3-8 🐛

SPECTACULAR SUMMERIFIC®

When high summer arrives, there's nothing more magnificent in the landscape than Summerific Hibiscus with its dinner plate-sized blossoms. These head-turners are a natural focal point, and their impressive stature means you'll only need a few to fill a garden bed.

Don't be alarmed when they pop up later than most other perennials in spring. Once they get revved up, they will grow an inch per day. Keeping them watered consistently and providing at least 6-8 hours of sun or more are the keys to growing amazing perennial hibiscus. Since they are winter hardy all the way down to zone 4, they won't require any protection to return reliably the following year.

Celebrate Summerific Hibiscus Week with us August 3-9, 2020 by tagging your Instagram posts with #SummerificWeek. This is also one of the best weeks to find these extraordinary perennials in stores.

PERFECT PERENNIAL PAIRINGS

What makes a perfect pairing of perennials? Start by matching plants that enjoy similar amounts of sunshine and moisture. Then, choose partners with contrasting textures, colors and shapes like you see here. A perfect pairing could be two perennials that bloom simultaneously or have complementary foliage. Your eye will naturally be drawn to them even from a distance. Repeat them throughout your garden to achieve a professionally designed look.

SHADOWLAND®
‘Waterslide’ Hosta
with DOLCE® ‘Apple Twist’
Heuchera (Coral Bells)

Banish the blahs in shade with this colorful pairing of icy blue, rippled leaf hostas and crisp chartreuse coral bells. This is one fantastic foliage combination that goes the distance.

🌞🌱 Zone 4-9 Average soil

PYROMANIA™
‘Hot and Cold’ Kniphofia
(Red Hot Poker)
and ‘Firefly Peach Sky’
Achillea (Yarrow)

This tall, peachy pair of perennials blooms in unison all summer long, sharing a love of sunny, hot, dry conditions. Both are long-lasting in fresh bouquets and are pollinator magnets.

🌞🌱🦋 Zone 6-8 Average to dry soil

SUMMERIFIC® ‘Perfect Storm’ Hibiscus
with LAKOTA™ Fire
Echinacea (Coneflower)
and PRAIRIE WINDS®
‘Totem Pole’ Panicum
(Switch Grass)

Red-hued coneflowers are reflected in the red eye of these dinner plate hibiscus from midsummer into fall. These Midwest native cultivars thrive in sun-soaked landscapes.

🌞🌱🦋 Zone 4-8 Average soil

‘Violet Profusion’ Salvia
with FRUIT PUNCH®
‘Classic Coral’
Dianthus

You’ll find pollinating bees and butterflies enjoying this perfect pairing in early summer. Cut the salvia back after flowering and it will reward you with many more blooms throughout the season.

🌞🌱🦋 Zone 4-8 Average to dry soil

‘Denim ‘n Lace’ Perovskia
(Russian Sage) with ‘Tuscan Sun’ Heliopsis
(Perennial Sunflower)

This low maintenance perfect pairing is reliably strong and beautiful every year. Plant it in one of the sunniest parts of your garden and watch it shine through the heat of summer.

🌞🌱 Zone 4-9 Average soil

‘Jack of Diamonds’
Brunnera with ‘Crested Surf’ Athyrium
(Crested Japanese Painted Fern)

The textures of this frilly fern and broad-leaved brunnera contrast perfectly in this perennial pairing. Try it in containers, window boxes or garden beds where the touches of silver will glow in the shade.

🌞🌱🦋 Zone 3-8 Average to moist soil

NEW SHRUBS FOR SMALL SPACES

Expansive gardens and large-scale plants are spectacular, but not everyone has the resources to create and maintain them, so small space gardening has risen in popularity. Fortunately, there's a right-sized shrub for every garden space. Some are petite enough to fit in containers, while others are just the right height for creating urban hedges in tight spaces. When you select the right-sized plant at the outset, you are saving yourself hours' worth of time in pruning and transplanting down the road.

Keep in mind that a smaller overall size doesn't have to mean a sacrifice in flower power. When we select new, compact plants, we also look for those with spectacular foliage and the showiest blooms – ones that will create the most impact in small gardens and patio containers.

TOP 5 TIPS FOR SUCCESS WITH PANICLE HYDRANGEAS

If you've stressed over growing hydrangeas in the past, it's time to try panicle hydrangeas. These easy to grow hydrangeas are naturally adapted to thrive and bloom reliably in a wide range of climates. Here are five tips for growing them well.

- 1 Choose the right-sized variety for your space. Their heights range greatly from the dwarf 3 foot tall Bobo to the robust 8 foot tall Pinky Winky, so be sure to read the label before putting them in your cart.
- 2 Plant your new panicle hydrangeas where they will see at least four hours of bright sun each day. In colder climates, they grow and bloom beautifully with 6+ hours of full sun.
- 3 Keep the roots of your hydrangeas happy by spreading a 2-3 inch layer of shredded bark mulch around the base of the plant. This helps to keep the soil moist and weeds at bay.
- 4 For the longest-lasting flowers and best color change from white to pink, don't let your panicle hydrangeas become drought-stressed in summer.
- 5 Relax and enjoy your new hydrangeas! These worry-free plants will bring you an entire season full of gorgeous blooms to enjoy every year.
